Aims and activities of the organization	Storiedichi Edizioni is an Italian independent publishing house based in Mestre (Venice), specializing in picture books for children aged 3 to 10, as well as illustrated books for adults (14+). Founded in 2023, it is the evolution of storiedichi.com, a digital magazine launched in 2013 by journalist Silvia Zanardi. Our mission is to promote stories that explore the harmony between humans and the environment, with a strong focus on reflecting on personal well-being and the awareness of the importance of preserving and understanding nature. Our books are designed to encourage readers to view the world with more attentive and sensitive eyes, to recognize beauty in everyday details, and to live more consciously and respectfully towards the environment. We believe that only through a deep connection with nature can one achieve inner well-being and a life in harmony with oneself and others. We select authors and illustrators who, through engaging and meaningful stories, are able to communicate values of respect, kindness, empathy, and observation—fundamental elements for living in a more balanced way with our world. Our publications are produced using eco-friendly materials, such as FSC-certified paper, as a testament to our commitment to environmental sustainability. The experience gained from the storiedichi.com magazine has enabled us to develop an editorial vision that centers on the dialogue between humans and nature, exploring how this relationship can be told in a profound, stimulating, and creative way. In an increasingly interconnected global context, we believe it is essential to contribute to the spread of stories that promote respect for and protection of the environment,

	while also fostering personal growth through reflection and awareness. We are open to collaboration with European publishing houses that share our approach and who, with our support, wish to bring their stories to the Italian audience, thus enriching the cultural landscape with works that highlight the relationship between human beings and the world around them.
